

DISCO for Investigations

Mitigate risk and streamline investigations to save time and reduce costs

“Using DISCO, we deliver exceptional results in complex investigations and high-stakes litigation to our global clientele. We create innovative, customized solutions designed for today’s ever-changing business environment.”

— Rob Bird, Managing Director

In a climate of growing government interest in corporate regulatory violations — and expanding theories of corporate and director/officer liability — internal investigations are an increasingly complex but common facet of life for in-house legal teams. In conjunction with disparate and expanding data populations, there is more pressure on in-house counsel, regardless of whether they decide to retain outside counsel to assist.

With DISCO...

Uncover key facts, utilize defensible workflows, keep data confidential, and streamline the investigation process with a single, collaborative, cloud-based platform. DISCO’s powerful tools enable teams to start reviewing data quickly and handle investigations from start to finish all in one platform with world-class support services — maximizing time, money, and resources.

Case studies

Client saves more than $25,000 in internal investigation

A commercial real estate company leveraged DISCO's technology and services to identify documents as part of a pre-litigation investigation into a potential building defect. The DISCO professional services team loaded approximately 30,000 documents collected from various sources and isolated all customer complaints in less than 21 hours, and at a fraction of the client's anticipated cost.

30,000 documents collected

21 hours time to resolution

Client quickly resolves hundreds of investigations

An investment fund was using a legacy ediscovery platform when they were hit with hundreds of regulatory investigations. They quickly realized it would be impossible to respond to using their current system and migrated to DISCO. DISCO's intuitive user interface made searching, reviewing, and responding to regulatory investigations or internal investigations a straightforward task — even allowing many responses the same day the request was received.

Hundreds of investigations

Same-day resolution possible

Client completes global investigation in 30 days

A Fortune 500 science and technology company; launched an internal investigation review within DISCO that crossed US and EU privacy laws and various international and national regulations. In less than 30 days, the firm loaded over 200,000 documents into DISCO, isolated documents requiring segregation to comply with EU Data Privacy policies, identified key documents, and closed the investigation.

200K documents loaded

30 days to complete resolution
